Common Sense – leave gates as found, no shooting at or anywhere near grazing cattle, or on ridgelines, respecting property boundaries, avoid driving on near crops, on cropped country or gardens. Our landscape is not your racetrack - no hooning vehicles. Please minimise disturbance to owners' animals. Hunt respectfully, kill humanely. Take all rubbish with you to the designated area, obey any fire restrictions especially total fire bans. If you treat the property with respect you will be welcomed back. The property uses channel 32. Property History and Information The property has been in the current owners' family for 110 years and the area was once heavily timbered. Part of property goes underwater in the major floods that occur about every 10 years. Hunters and their families can enjoy the peace, sounds and scenery of nature, whilst staying in relative comfort at the shearers hut. Swimming, walking, fishing and of course, picnics, campfires and the hunt are all enjoyable activities on the property. The owners are happy to speak to guests and help with a full run-down of the property's features and to be present if guests would like to meet the horses.
